introduction

The Omani Renaissance, which was led with full dedication and sincerity for half a century of time, by the late Sultan Qaboos bin Said - may Allah have His mercy on him - in various sectors and with immortal achievements, and which is continued by His Majesty Sultan Haitham bin Tarik - may Allah protect him - with his enlightening vision in line with what the challenges of the current stage require, is a source of pride for every Omani enjoying it at all times and having the right to be proud of belonging to an institutional state that has established its glory and built its prestigious position through its ancient history and well-known present.

The present Oman, in its renewed renaissance led by His Majesty - may Allah support him - who has been paying unparalleled interest in everything that would elevate Oman as a state and a people, is proving that it is an institutional state that has achieved remarkable success in assuming a decent position in the ranks of the advanced countries of the world, and has been able to dig its great name in the register of greatness. This tells of a promising future and qualitative moves in various fields.

Any modern state is not able to rise in isolation from embracing pioneering institutions that pledge to play a role compatible with the size of its ambitious goals, in order to produce achievements that make a great difference. From this point comes "Achievers in the Renaissance Age” in its first edition 2020 - in Arabic and English. This book tackles the achievements of some leading governmental and private institutions in the Sultanate. In addition to the fact that “Achievers in the Renaissance Age” is the first of its kind in content and direction, it is also a source characterized by a high level of transparency and credibility, and its first edition coincides with the Sultanate’s celebrations of the fiftieth glorious National Day.

Tarweej, through “Achievers in the Renaissance Age - First Edition 2020”, chose the infographic format as an attractive form of visual communication, in order to deliver the extensive data contained in the book to its audience in the most effective way, to ensure the creation of a high response.

In conclusion, it is pleasure for Taraweej to extend its sincere thanks to all the institutions that participated in the first edition (2020) of “Achievers in the Renaissance Age” that was fulfilled only with them and for them.

We celebrate in November this year the 50th National Day, a renewed renaissance, in which we recall pace of development and progress of this country, congratulate ourselves on the achievements made during the past years, and look forward to the bright future.

The late Sultan Qaboos bin Said bin Taimur - may God rest his soul in peace - established over the past fifty years solid features of a modern country. The country witnessed economic and social development, and with all this progress and urban and industrial prosperity, his government paid great attention to the environment of Oman as an institutional work governed by legislation and laws.

On this happy occasion, we congratulate His Majesty Sultan Haitham bin Tariq - may God protect him - who continues in his auspicious reign the great principles and values on which this nation was founded, where everyone rolls up their sleeves in their respective fields. The wise vision of His Majesty the Sultan - may God protect him - in Oman Vision 2040, is the perfect example of national development being the country's supreme goal and approach, for a brighter and more prosperous future.

We renew our pledge and loyalty to His Majesty that we will be moving forward among the blessed Renaissance march as envisioned by His Majesty to serve this great country and its loyal people.

“We stress the continual importance of agriculture, fisheries and animal husbandry. Our efforts to secure our food requirements cannot succeed if they are dependent on the outside world. The development of productive projects in this vital field and the encouragement of our people to utilise agricultural land effectively without exhausting our water resources, is the only answer. Carefully studied and organised agricultural work can increase this sector of our economy and thus contribute to the provision of the food we need.”

- An excerpt from the speech of the late Sultan Qaboos bin Said – may Allah have mercy on him - on the occasion of 22nd National Day.
